Intellectual Property

Protection of artistic creations and rights protected by Law 17.336.

• Registration of Works.

We handle the worldwide registration of copyrights on artistic works in the field of literature, science, and art of our clients, providing them with comprehensive advice so that they can exploit their creation and protect it from copying, piracy, and misuse by third parties.

• Software.

The source code, interfaces, libraries, and additional documents associated with software are protected by copyright. We comprehensively manage the protection of this product, together with the review of the associated contracts, drafting terms and conditions, EULAS and other conditions agreed for its development.

• Media and Entertainment

Collaborative works, production of audiovisual series, radio programs, book publishing, and entertainment products require the advice of specialized lawyers to help establish clearly to whom and what part of the rights belong to each of the participants. We draft instruments tailored to the needs of our clients.

• Publicity and Image Rights

We advise individuals and companies that in the course of their business commercially use natural person images, reviewing and drafting the required instruments to avoid any controversy or misuse of this important asset that today is the basis for positioning in social media and commercial networks.
